At last, a compact system for forms processing at a compact price.

Swingline's desktop units are so compact they fit just about anywhere.

But don't let the compact size and compact price fool you. Swingline's Burster, Decollator and Shredder can do just about anything that comes across your desk. They let you separate long forms, put them into convenient stacks while removing the carbon and keep confidential information under wraps — all with the push of a button. And you can own all three for what you usually pay for one.

For more information write Swingline Inc., Dept. A, 32-00 Skillman Ave., L.I.C., New York 11101 or call (718) 729-9600.
